Legislature has shown good sense. The Frawley law turned the old order of things upside down, and it took a little while to get everything running smoothly. But it is doing everything we expected of it. We'll have time to give it a thorough trying out before the next session.

"I suppose you can sit down now and take it easy until next year," I suggested.

"Nothing of the sort," disclaimed the Commissioner. "We have been pretty successful so far, but before the end of the year we expect to have the sport of boxing on a higher plane in New York State than it ever has been anywhere in the world. We don't want to clutter the situation up with so many rules that boxers and referees will have to take a
